

Elite Editing Thesis Write-up Scholarship

Description

The Elite Editing Thesis Write-up Scholarship provides financial assistance for one postgraduate student per year for a period of 12 weeks to free them from other forms of employment and allow them to concentrate solely on the task of writing their thesis.

For students who do not hold another scholarship, the Elite Editing Thesis Write-up Scholarship pays a stipend of $1,000 per fortnight for six fortnights ($6,000 in total), tax free.

For students who do hold another scholarship, the Elite Editing Thesis Write-up Scholarship pays a stipend of $600 per fortnight for six fortnights ($3,600 in total), tax free.

Eligibility

Students must be enrolled full time in a research degree (Masters or PhD) at an Australian university.

Students must be intending to commence their scholarship write-up within the 12 months following the closing date. If this requirement cannot be met, then the student should consider applying in the following year.

Part-time students are eligible to apply for the scholarship only in circumstances where the applicant is able to demonstrate heavy carer commitments or a medical condition that precludes them from studying full time.

Both international and domestic students are eligible to apply, as long as they are studying at a university located in Australia or New Zealand. Students may be either internal or external students residing in Australia or New Zealand.

Students who hold another scholarship may apply, but in this case would only be awarded a stipend of $600 per fortnight for six fortnights ($3,600 in total), tax free.

For students who do not hold another scholarship, the Elite Editing Thesis Write-up Scholarship pays a stipend of $1,000 per fortnight for six fortnights ($6,000 in total), tax free.

The student must not engage in any forms of paid employment for the duration of the scholarship (unless Elite Editing is notified of any special circumstances that would prohibit this requirement at the time of application).

The student must work on writing their thesis full time (a minimum of 35 hours per week) for the duration of the scholarship (i.e. they must have completed the research stage).

Employees of Elite Editing and their family members are not eligible for the scholarship.

Application process

Applications will open on 1 January and close on 30 June each year.

The scholarship will be awarded prior to 31 July each year.

The successful applicant may specify a start date for the scholarship that is any time within the following 12 months.

For more information on the scholarship, and a link to the application form, please visit: <https://www.eliteediting.com.au/scholarship>. The application form must be completed online. (Applications will not be accepted by email or post.)

Elite Editing will assess each application based on the academic and community merit of the research being undertaken and the financial situation of the student. The successful applicant will be chosen at the sole discretion of Elite Editing.
