

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Thursday 27th May

Opening ceremony

(Live session plenary 10:00am AEST)

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
26 May 20:00	27 May 1:00	27 May 8:00	27 May 10:00

Welcome to Country

Welcome to Deakin University

Prof Gary Rogers, Deakin University, Australia

Building bioethics education in the Asia Pacific – why we must work together

Prof HK Ng, Chinese University of Hong Kong, China

Values and inclusivity in ethics education

(Session on demand)

Title	Speaker
Bioethics curriculum, what is the difference means between Eastern and Western perspectives?	Prof Yali Cong, Peking University, China
Personal encounters and placement experiences: do they influence student values in meaningful ways?	Prof Stephen Tobin, Western Sydney University, Australia
Empowering Resettled Refugee Populations Through Inclusive Bioethics Education	Tanner McGuire, Northeast Ohio Medical University
What's the issue? Redesigning an ethics seminar to foster an inclusive and relational learning environment for medical students	Dr Cynthia Forlini, Deakin University, Australia
Raising awareness of values and ethics in radiography education, a small scale qualitative study	John McInerney, Monash University, Australia
Humanization of medical education in the Republic of Belarus	Dr Hanna Klimovich, Belarusian State Medical University, Belarus

Thinking about what matters in health ethics education

(Live session plenary – 13:00pm AEST)

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
26 May 23:00	27 May 4:00	27 May 11:00	27 May 13:00

Keynote: What is the role of race in health ethics education?

Prof Jacinta Elston, Monash University, Australia

Keynote: The importance of ethics education for health professionals

Mr Martin Fletcher, Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency Australia

Culture and Bioethics

(Session on demand)

Title	Speaker
Engaging with emotions and culture in ethics teaching – lessons from Indonesia	Dr Amalia Muhaimin, Universitas Jenderal Soedirman, Indonesia
How might language bias in publications reflect ethics training of future clinician-researchers?	Prof MengFeng Li, Southern Medical University, China
Culture and context - perspectives from teaching bioethics in the US and Australia	Dr Emma Tumilty, Deakin University, Australia
When East meets West in medical ethics training	Vicki Xafis and Tracy Anne Dunbrook, National University of Singapore

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Bioethics Curriculum in Undergraduate Medical programmes – Asian Perspective	Dr Wee Ming Lau, Monash University, Malaysia
Moral judgments in the mental health professions	Ray Wai-Lok Cheung, Chinese University of Hong Kong, China
Conversation Room (Live session – 16:00 AEST)
Conversation room Q&A with available speakers from Day 1
New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
27 May 2:00	27 May 7:00	27 May 14:00	27 May 16:00

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Friday 28th May

Innovation in ethics and professionalism education

(Session on demand)

Title	Speaker
Exploring how emotionally impactful educational experiences engender affective learning and values formation in health professional students	Prof Gary Rogers, Deakin University, Australia
Transformative Storytelling: Teaching Students to Podcast in the Health Humanities	A/Prof Jeff Farroni, University of Texas Medical Branch, USA
Teaching ethics via cultural immersion	Ms Candice McKenzie, Deakin University, Australia
Innovation in Bioethics Education: Addressing Empathy with a Mobile Just-In-Time Learning Project	A/Prof Kulsoom Ghias, Aga Khan University, Pakistan
Contextualised reflective competence: a new competency learning model for clinical training	A/Prof Andrew Stuart Lane, University of Sydney, Australia
Coup de Mot: Using Poetry to Confront the History of Mental Health Treatment	Steven T. Licardi, East Side Institute, USA

Conversation Room

(Live session – 11:00 AEST)

Conversation room

Getting jobs in bioethics, hot tips, strategies, interview advice and more

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
27 May 21:00	28 May 2:00	27 May 9:00	28 May 11:00

Engaging with ethics in response to the pandemic

(Session on demand with live panel at 14:00pm AEST)

Title	Speaker
Responding in real time - online ethics training in Australia during COVID19	Dr Rosalind McDougall, University of Melbourne, Australia
Responding to COVID19 – establishing ethics support in Malaysia	Dr Mark Tan, MARA University of Technology, Malaysia
Ethics support in Pakistan during COVID-19	Prof Amir Jafarey, Centre for Biomedical Ethics and Culture, Pakistan
Surrogacy in the Pandemic: Implications for Bioethics Education	Dina Siniora, Duquesne University, USA
Epidemic and Life Attitudes: Bioethics Implication in The Picture of Dorian Gray and Its Inspiration to Bioethics Education in The Post-COVID-19 Era	Xueying Zhang, Nanjing Medical University, China
Reciprocity in Quarantine: Observations from Wuhan's COVID-19 Digital Landscapes	Morris Fabri, Duke University, USA
Healthcare Services to Immigrants and Minorities During a Pandemic in Malaysia from the Ethical, Legal and Fiqh Perspectives	A/Prof Suhaila Sanip, Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia, Malaysia

Live panel session at 14:00pm AEST

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
28 May 00:00	28 May 05:00	28 May 12:00	28 May 14:00

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Featuring: Dr Rosalind McDougall, Dr Mark Tan, Prof Amir Jafarey

The clinician as ethicist

(Live session plenary & panel at 14:45 AEST)

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
28 May 00:45	28 May 05:45	28 May 12:45	28 May 14:45

Keynote: The clinician as ethicist – perspectives of a surgeon-ethicist-humanist

Dr Sanjay Nagral, Forum Medical Ethics Society, India

Professionalism, ethics and training of nephrologists & transplant surgeons (panel)

Featuring: Dr Sanjay Nagral, Dr Ahmed Nada, Dr Benita Padilla

Conversation Room

(Live session – 16:00 AEST)

Conversation room

Live Q and A session with available speakers from Day 2

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
28 May 3:00	28 May 8:00	28 May 15:00	28 May 17:00

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Saturday 29th May

The role of humanities in medical education

(Live session plenary and panel – 10:00am AEST)

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
28 May 20:00	29 May 01:00	29 May 8:00	29 May 10:00

Keynote: The Role of Experts in Teaching Health Humanities in Medical Schools

Prof Craig Klugman, DePaul University, USA

Humanizing or hot air? Humanities in medical education (panel)

Featuring: Prof Craig Klugman, A/Prof Jeff Farroni, TBC

Ethics and professionalism - future perspectives

(Session on demand)

Title	Speaker
Keynote: Ethics and professionalism education in Medical Radiation Practice – where are we now and where are we going?	A/Prof Caroline Wright, Monash University, Australia
Preparing Future Ethical Leaders in the Health Professions	Caitlyn Blaich, Western Sydney University, Australia
FutureProofing Healthcare in Asia Pacific: Ethical Dimensions	Dr Maude E. Phipps, Monash University, Malaysia
Experiences of ethics education among different health professions	Amanda B Lees, Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Pandemics and professionalism - implications for teaching	Dr Wee-Ming Lau, Monash University, Malaysia

Learning to teach ethics

(Session on demand with live panel at 14:00pm AEST)

Title	Speaker
Perspectives of an early career academic	Dr Olivia Ngan, Chinese University of Hong Kong, China
Perspectives of senior academic	Prof Alistair Campbell, National University Singapore, Singapore
Fantastic beats and where to find them: How I developed a heart for teaching bioethics in medicine	Dr Pacifico Eric Eusebio Calderon, St Luke's Medical Center College of Medicine
Reflections of a sessional academic	Ms Alexandra Wakeley, Deakin University, Australia

Live panel session at 14:00 AEST

New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
29 May 00:00	29 May 05:00	29 May 12:00	29 May 14:00

Featuring: Dr Olivia Ngan, Dr Pacifico Calderon, Dr Mark Tan, Ms Alex Wakeley

Assessment of ethics and professionalism

(session on demand and live panel at 16:00pm AEST)

Title	Speaker
Professionalism in online assessment	Ms Mary Lawson, Deakin University, Australia

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Assessment of professionalism		A/Prof Anna Ryan, University of Melbourne, Australia
Development of an Innovative Rubric to Evaluate Student Learning in Discussion Board Posts within a Study Comparing Synchronous and Asynchronous Online Bioethics Lecture Delivery		Michael L. J. Greer and Jenny Clark Schiff, The Graduate Center of CUNY, USA
Role of Short Answer Questions in ethics, law and professionalism assessment		Alexandra Wakeley, Deakin University
Live panel session at 16:00 AEST
New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
29 May 2:00	29 May 7:00	29 May 14:00	29 May 16:00
Featuring: Ms Mary Lawson, Prof Shekhar Kumta, A/Prof Anna Ryan, Dr Mike Tweed
Conversation Room Networking Event! (Live session – 17:00 AEST)
Conversation room
Meet up with APBEN members and non-members, bring coffee or wine or breakfast!
New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
29 May 3:00	29 May 8:00	29 May 15:00	29 May 17:00

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Sunday 30th May
Teaching ethics online (Session on demand)
Title	Speaker
Effectiveness of Virtual Live Teaching in Conjunction with Asynchronous Online Activity in Research Ethics for Myanmar Professionals	Prof Henry Silverman, University of Maryland, USA
The Role of Videoconferencing in Distance Medical Education: A Review	Mohd Hariz Bin Roslan, Monash University Malaysia
Medical Zoombies are Here! Reflections of A Year of Teaching Clinical Paediatrics Online	A/Prof Alex Tang, Monash University Malaysia
Designing and implementing a 'desktop' medical ethics rotation for clinical interns in a Philippine medical school	Dr Susan Pelea-Nagtalon, St. Luke's Medical Center College of Medicine. Philippines
Experiential learning in bioethics: Using Patient Interview Video	Dr Wai-Tat Wong, Dr Olivia Ngan, Chinese University of Hong Kong
Health ethics curricular changes in response to the pandemic (Session on demand and live panel at 11:20am AEST)
Title	Speaker
A view from Oceania	A/Prof Lynley Anderson, Otago University, New Zealand
A view from Europe	A/Prof Mikey Dunn, Oxford University, UK
A view from Asia	Prof Roy Joseph, National University Singapore, Singapore
Bioethical challenges posed by the Covid pandemic: What we need to learn and teach	Prof Robert Klitzman, Columbia University, USA
Live panel session at 11.20am AEST
New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
29 May 21:20	30 May 02:20	30 May 9:20	30 May 11:20
Featuring: A/Prof Lynley Anderson, Prof Robert Klitzman, Prof Roy Joseph, A/Prof Mikey Dunn
Can small group ethics teaching work in an online environment? Live panel session at 12:00pm AEST
New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
29 May 22:00	30 May 3:00	30 May 10:00	30 May 12:00
Featuring: A/Prof Tamra Lysaght, Ms Alex Wakeley, Prof Bushra Shirazi, TBC
Fostering ethical and professional practice (Session on demand)
Title	Speaker
Keynote: Moral distress in nursing education - how should educators respond?	Professor Rowena Escolar-Chua, University of Santo Tomas, the Philippines

APBEN 2021 PROGRAM

Fostering professionalism in optometry	Ms Jane Duffy, Deakin University, Australia
Locating the place of doctor self-care in medical education and training	Dr Pacifico Eric Eusebio Calderon, St Luke's Medical Center College of Medicine
Designing to develop empathy and perspective - a conscientious objection case study	Dr David Hunter, University of Adelaide, Australia
Using Common Humanity Scenarios to Promote Compassion in Health Professionals	Dr Debbie Ling, Monash University, Australia
Bend, But Not Break: Designing Resilience Program for Medical Students in Yogyakarta, Indonesia	Nabila Puspakesuma, Universitas Gadjah Mada, Indonesia
Developing Goal Concordant for Oncology Patients	Dr Nico Nortje, University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center, USA
Final Conversation Room and closing remarks!
(Live session – 14:00 AEST)
New York	London	Hong Kong	Melbourne
30 May 00:00	30 May 5:00	30 May 12:00	30 May 14:00
Conversation room:
Q&A with available speakers from Day 4 and final reflections on APBEN 2021			