

Sexuality and intellectual disability: a masterclass

Addressing service responses to sexuality and relationship rights, sexual abuse, sexual and gender diversity and working with indigenous populations.

Join the School of Health and Social Development for a masterclass to promote understanding of sexuality and relationships in the lives of people with intellectual disability.

The masterclass will showcase applied research and learning from domestic and international scholars connected to the field, and we are also proud to host keynote speaker Professor Michael Gill, author of 'Already doing it: Intellectual Disability and Sexual Agency', and fellow at Syracuse University, New York. This will be his first visit to Australia.

Presenters:

- Dr Michael Gill. PhD, Associate Professor of Disability Studies, Syracuse University, New York.
- Paul Milner, Senior Researcher, Donald Beasley Institute, Dunedin New Zealand.
- Dr Patsie Frawley, Associate Professor of Disability & Inclusion, Deakin University
- Dr Amie O'Shea, Research Fellow, Deakin University
- Nathan Despott, Manager Policy & Projects, Inclusion Melbourne

When and where

Deakin Downtown, Tower 2, Level 12, 727 Collins Street

Thursday 28 March, 9.30am to 4.30pm

Lunch, morning and afternoon tea is included

Early bird and concession rates available.

To register, go to bit.ly/2Dyevr4
deakin.is/disability-and-inclusion

